

Conference on Taxation, Household Behavior, and the Distribution of Incomes and Wealth
Berlin, 16-17 July 2015

A conference on Taxation, Household Behavior, and the Distribution of Incomes and Wealth will be held in Berlin on July 16th and 17th, 2015. We welcome submissions on tax effects on labor supply, household savings, and portfolio choice as well as on the distribution of incomes and wealth. The welfare effects of taxation and social insurance are also of interest. Emphasis will be on empirically oriented research, but applied theoretical research is also welcome.

We aim at about 10 presentations which will be selected on the basis of submitted papers, although extended abstracts may also be considered. Papers or extended abstracts should be sent by email to the organizers of the conference. Volunteers for discussants are also welcome. Submissions close on February 28th, 2015. The program will be announced by March 20th, 2015.

The conference is organized by Giacomo Corneo (Giacomo.Corneo@fu-berlin.de), Viktor Steiner (Viktor.Steiner@fu-berlin.de) and Charlotte Bartels (Charlotte.Bartels@fu-berlin.de) as a supporting event of the Ph.D.-program on “Public Economics and Inequality” (<http://www.wiwiss.fu-berlin.de/en/forschung/promotionskolleg/index.html>) of the Free University of Berlin and the Hans-Böckler-Foundation. The conference venue is on the beautiful Berlin island of Schwanenwerder. It will start at 2 p.m. on July 16th and end at about 6 p.m. on the day after.

Travel (economy fare with a cap) and accommodation expenses for presenters of accepted papers will be covered.
