

Content

Chapter 1: Introduction

- 1.1 The accountability cycle
- 1.2 A side step: Performance measurement and the 2008 financial crisis
- 1.3 Further organization of this lecture

Chapter 2: The benchmark – perfect performance measurement

- 2.1 The net present value (NPV) rule
- 2.2 The choice of the company's discount rate
- 2.3 The bridge between Corporate Finance and Management Accounting
- 2.4 Incomplete access to the capital market: Opportunity costs of capital

Chapter 3: Generic Results from principal agent theory

- 3.1 The basic model: Direct performance measurement
- 3.2 Indirect performance measurement
- 3.3 Adding more performance measures
- 3.4 Unknown difficulty to implement the project – adverse selection
- 3.5 Trust: The benefits of long-term relationships

Chapter 4: Financial performance measures

- 4.1 Some institutional background
- 4.2 Short-term performance measurement and cash-bonus systems
- 4.3 Residual profits in practice: EVA[®], CVA etc.
- 4.4 Long-term performance measurement

Chapter 5: Non-financial performance measures: The Balanced Scorecard

- 5.1 The basic principles of the Balanced Scorecard
- 5.2 Problems around the Balanced Scorecard
- 5.3 The Balanced Scorecard in practice
- 5.4 Some final remarks about BSC